

Literacy

Through drawing club, we will use a book, film clip and a traditional tale to explore characters, settings and curious areas of the stories. We will continue to write CVC/CVCC words with a focus on using these in a sentence. We will also read a range of books based on a winter theme at story time.

Maths

This half term we will continue exploring numbers to 10. We will learn about part whole models and the composition of numbers. There will also be a focus on adding and subtracting 1.

Personal Social & Emotional

In PSED we will focus on keeping ourselves safe. We will look at what we can put in and on our bodies, our feelings and which people can help us.

Travel into the cold

Physical Education

This half term we will continue to work on our fundamental skills. We will also have a focus on jumping and how to do this correctly and how we can use our bodies to jump further.

Expressive Arts and Design

Within this area we will be looking to express our creative skills by making junk models and models with play dough. We will examine hot and cold colours and show these in contrasting paintings.

As part of Chinese New Year we will make a dragon. We will practice our cutting skills in particular in a wavy line. We will also look at how we can link to materials together.

Understanding the World

We will have a number of focuses this term:

For Science we will explore the season of Winter and what signs we can see. We will look at hibernation and how we can help animals in Winter.

When learning about people who help us we will look forward to visits from the Police, Fire Service and a healthcare professional.

There will also be a chance to explore Chinese New Year and examine the traditions that are involved.

In RE we will examine Christianity and Islam. We will look at special, holy books and also think about what is special to us.
