

British Values

7th – 13th December

Mutual Respect and Tolerance

Some things we have can be special because they help us to remember places we visited or a special person. Something that is special to you, may not be special to someone else, but we can all respect how each other feels.

UN Rights of a Child

Memories help us to form our own identity. When we remember events through letters, photos and other special objects, it helps us to understand who we really are.
