Look at some of the things that people might have, that could be extra special to them because they help them to remember something or someone. Do you have anything special? What is it? Does it help you to remember something? What does it help you to remember?

A special photograph of when you were younger or when you did something fun with your family.

Something you were given or bought when you were on holiday that helps you to remember where you went.

A special toy that you have played with so much and you will want to keep forever!
