

Albert Square

In Albert Square no house has the same number of people living in it as another.

The houses are different sizes.

In each line of three houses there are a total of 15 people.

Altogether 36 people live in the eight houses.

No house is empty.

How many people live in each house?

Is there more than one answer?